

Graduate School of International Cultural Studies: Curriculum

Department of International Cultural Studies

Master's Course

Classification		Subject
Basic Courses in School of International Cultural Studies		Introduction to International Cultural Studies
Linguistics & Cultural Studies	Linguistics	Contemporary English Linguistics
		English Historical Linguistics & Philology
		English Language Teaching & Applied Linguistics
		Chinese Linguistics & Philology
		Linguistics & Language Studies
		Expressions in English Seminar
		Seminar on Community Interpreting and Translation
		Community Interpreting Research
		Advanced Studies in Linguistics
	Literature & Cultural Studies	British Literature & Culture
		American Literature & Culture
		Chinese Literature & Culture
		Area Studies in Literature and Culture
		Translation Seminar
		Advanced Studies in Literature & Culture
	Social & Cultural Studies	Studies on International Affairs	British & American Politics & Economies
			European Politics & Economies
			Chinese Politics & Economies
			International Relations

Department of International Cultural Studies

Master's Course

Classification		Subject
		Advanced Studies in International Affairs
	Area Studies	British & American History & Society
		History & Society in Europe
		History & Society in Asia
		Studies on Latin America & Emerging Economies
		Comparative Area Studies
		Cultural Anthropology
		Advanced Area Studies
General Courses in School of International Cultural Studies		Studies on Multicultural Communities
		Public Service Interpreting and Social Resources
		Cultural Theory
		Teaching Japanese as a Foreign Language
		International Communication
		Studies of Multilingual and Multicultural Practices
		Community Interpreting Practice
		Special Topics (International Culture)
		Overseas Graduate School Course Credit
Research Seminars		Special Seminar (International Culture)
		Master's Thesis (International Culture)